P. L. 179, Sec. 623. During the current fiscal year, the President may exempt appropriations, funds, and contract authorizations, available for military functions under the Department of Defense from the provisions of subsection (c) of section 3679 of the Revised Statutes, as amended, whenever he deems such action to be necessary in the interest of national defense.

Note:

(31 U.S.C. 665) No officer or employee . . . shall make or authorize an expenditure from or create or authorize an obligation under any appropriation or fund in excess of the amount available therein; . . .
House Report 680 . . . the reconstituted Joint Chiefs of Staff will completely review our defensive position and submit a report to the President This review may result in changes in military strategy and concepts, calling for greater or lesser appropriations than those being recommended. . . . As to the interim period, attention is called to Sec. 623 of the General Provisions which permits the President to exempt Department of Defense funds from the anti-deficiency law. Should developments demand it, all available funds could be obligated and expended within thirty days, if that were possible.
